

Lap-Band

Lap-Band

As Lap Band surgery has become more and more popular in recent years, many individuals interested in having the effective weight loss surgery want to learn more about the procedure.

In essence, Lap Band involves implanting a band device in the upper portion of the stomach to restrict the amount of food that an individual can consume at each sitting. The band works to provide a sense of feeling fuller sooner for patients, thereby decreasing their pounds over time.